Nurturing refugee entrepreneurship between liabilities of refuge and assets of mixed embeddedness

14:00-14:10 - Part 1: Introduction

Introductory remarks by Jörg Freiling (LEMEX - Chair in Small Business & Entrepreneurship, Universität Bremen), Tenzin Yeshi (LEMEX - Chair in Small Business & Entrepreneurship, Universität Bremen), and Stefano Rovelli (Fondazione Generali – The Human Safety Net)

14:10-14:55 - Part 2: Paper Ideas Presentations - Chair: Tenzin Yeshi

- Lukas Valek (Prague University of Economics & Business): Social Entrepreneurship of Ukrainian refugees in the Czech Republic: Necessity or Opportunity?
- Sadhana Manik (University of KwaZulu-Natal): Refugee entrepreneurship in South Africa: A literature review of discourses and policy gaps
- David Jepson (Ashley Community Housing - ACH): Siloed policy approaches to migrant entrepreneurship: Insights from the UK

14:55-15:20 - Part 3: Interactive Panel Discussion - Moderation: Jörg Freiling

Panel members:

- Alexandra David, researcher at IAT, Gelsenkirchen, Germany, involved in the Enter2Transform EU-funded project
- Silsila Mahoub, Entrepreneur, Refugee, and Representative of EU-COMAR

Plenary discussion

15:20-15:55 - Part 4: Group Activity "Painting the Future" - Moderation: Stefano Rovelli

Collecting and uniting the voices and views of the participants and putting it all together: group work and plenary

- Participants will be divided into small groups and asked to reflect on what actions they would take, individually and as a collective, to implement learnings that emerged in the previous sessions in their own research/practice. Groups will be asked to identify specific challenges or barriers that will need to be overcome for this to happen.
- In plenary, a spokesperson for each group will share key reflections and participant "pledges".

15:55-16:00 - Part 5: Wrap-up, moving on and staying together: Conclusive remarks and assessment of the session.

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required. You can register here by 20th April, 2023.

Parallel Working Group 2: 27TH APRIL, 2023 (14:00-16:00) Inclusive entrepreneurial support: Theory and practice

14:00-14:15 - Part 1: Introduction and ice-breaking

14:15-14:45 - Part 2: Inspiration

- Vira Mistry (Entrepreneur, Development practitioner and Diversity, Equity and Inclusion specialist)
- Rosana Reis (ISG International Business School)

Debate with the participants.

14:45-15:30 - Part 2: Designing and delivering inclusive entrepreneurial support programs

- Chiara Davalli (European Business Innovation Centre Network): from “being open to everyone” to “being inclusive to everyone”. Becoming aware about and acting upon inclusion issues in incubation practices.
- Rosana Reis (ISG International Business School): the role of training to foster the competences of incubation professionals in incubating migrants.
- Rutger de Rijk (Impact Hub Amsterdam): practical insights into how to develop and improve social and communication competences to work with migrant entrepreneurs.
- Shawgi Ahmed (PLACE Network): practical insights into competences needed to serve an increasingly ethnically, racially and culturally diverse entrepreneurial population.

15:30-16:00 - Part 4: Interact, share and propose

Participants will be able to present their experiences in providing support to migrant entrepreneurs, share practices that they have created or problems that they are not able to solve. The guided session aims at stimulating collective reflection and creation of potential solutions or future propositions.

An assessment of the session will be carried out to allow participants reflecting on their learning.

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required. You can register here by 20th April, 2023.

Parallel Working Group 3: 27TH APRIL, 2023 (14:00-16:00)

Migration as an opportunity for international entrepreneurship

14:00-14:10 - Part 1: Introduction

Introductory remarks and presentation of the panel by ROBERT KLOOSTERMAN, Emeritus Professor of Economic Geography and Planning at the Universiteit van Amsterdam.

The panel consists of scholars and practitioners who will bring attention to a different dimension of the contribution that migration can bring to international entrepreneurship and investments. Scholars in the panel have been chosen among those who participated in the call for abstracts launched in the framework of the conference. Practitioners work in the field of migrant and multicultural entrepreneurship, including key actors and stakeholders of the E-Merge¹ initiative implemented by the International Organization for Migration (IOM).

14:10-14:40 - Part 2: Paper Idea Discussion (8min presentation + 7min discussion)

- ALMA LUTAJ – The UCL School of Slavonic and East European Studies (SSEES), University College of London, London, England. Diaspora networks as catalyst in diaspora entrepreneurship.
- MERITA ZULFIU ALILI – Faculty of Contemporary Social Sciences, SEEU. Return migration, entrepreneurship and development in North Macedonia.

14:40-15:10 – Part 3: Practitioners' interventions

- FABIO SANTONI, coach&tutor of StudENT for Africa, a project of the University of Bologna that develops, accompanies and supports business ideas for Africa designed by students as part of the Startup Day.
- DANIELE PANZERI, IOM – E-Merge project lead and co-organizer of the working group.
- PAULA ANDREA CALLEJAS GREIFFENSTEIN, MINRL – Artisanal jewelry that privileges the use of Fairmined, recycled or environmentally sustainable materials; one of the multicultural enterprises which participated to E-Merge.
- BARBARA SETTI, FONDAZIONE FINANZA ETICA – Integrated actions to support entrepreneurship of third-country citizens in Italy. Outcomes of the call Microcredito per grandi idee (Microcredit for great ideas) 2 years after its launch; Fondazione Finanza Etica is a partner in the E-Merge program.

15:10-15:50 - Part 4: Q&A from the audience

The moderator will open the floor to the audience for a Q&A session in order to collect reactions to panelists' interventions and inputs to continue the discussion on the topic of the working group.

15:50-16:00 - Part 5: Wrap up and Key recommendations

This concluding part will be conducted by the moderator and is dedicated to a summary of action-oriented joint recommendations for policy-makers, practitioners and academics, which came from participants' inputs and discussions.

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required. You can register here by 20th April, 2023.

Contacts: Daniele Panzeri dpanzeri@iom.int; Caterina Dollorenzo cdollorenzo@iom.int; Marcella Pasotti mpasotti@iom.int

This working group is co-organized by: International Organization for Migration.

¹ The E-Merge initiative, implemented by IOM and funded through the Voluntary Contribution from the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, aims to support Italy-based enterprises, emphasizing the added value that multicultural backgrounds bring to business by contributing to both their internationalization as well as improving their developmental impact. The pilot edition was implemented between 2020 and 2022 and supported four multicultural enterprises through training, individual coaching and by assisting them in accessing credit through the partner Banca Etica. Following the pilot edition, E-Merge will continue to support and promote multicultural enterprises with a social impact based in Italy, leveraging the value of cultural diversity for the achievement of the SDGs and their internationalization.

Parallel Working Group 4: 27TH APRIL, 2023 (14:00-16:00)

Building thriving entrepreneurial ecosystems:

Financial and non-financial support services

14:00-14:10 - Part 1: Introduction

Introductory remarks by Davide Libralesso (Microfinanza), Laura Toschi (Department of Management, Alma Mater Studiorum-University of Bologna)

14:10-14:40 - Part 2: Inspiration for reflection and debate

In this part, we will listen to and discuss with academics, entrepreneurs, and financing organizations to understand what are the challenges and opportunities in establishing connections between migrant entrepreneurs, support services, finance and investment bodies, and institutions? The participants to the working group will be able to start a conversation building on the following contributions:

- Ebru Sarikaya (research associate, University of Mannheim) TBC
- Valentina Primo (founder, Start-up Without Borders)
- Francesco Abbà (Consorzio CGM Finance)
- Vittoria San Pietro (Emilbanca)

14:40-15:30 – Part 3: Tacking stock of practices for financial services

In this part, some of the practices available to financially support migrant entrepreneurship initiatives, such as microcredit, impact investment funds, crowdfunding, grants, cryptocurrencies and other financing tools will be presented.

These presentations will open the floor to additional experiences offered by the participants to the working group.

15:30-16:00 - Part 4: Moving forward

Participation is free of charge, but registration is required. You can register here by 20th April, 2023.
